AIMM Online Programs Required Technology Guide

(0624.1)

Welcome Atlanta Institute of Music and Media Online Program students! This resource guide explains the required technology equipment and software needed for successful completion of coursework in your program of study*. On the following pages, you will find a list of required technology, suggestions of options for each, and helpful purchase links for your convenience. Included at the end of the document is contact information for online retailer Vintage King, with whom AIMM has arranged educational discounts for our students with convenient purchase options for any required technology needed.

As an online student, you must obtain, or have regular access to, this required technology by the start of the program or it will not be possible to complete the program.

The technology requirements in this resource guide apply to students enrolled in any of the following online, asynchronous programs at AIMM:

- Associate of Applied Science in Music Production & Audio for Media
- Certificate in Music Production
- Certificate in Music & Technology

*PLEASE NOTE: AIMM DOES NOT PROVIDE ANY EQUIPMENT REQUIRED FOR ONLINE ASYNCHRONOUS PROGRAMS.

This equipment must be obtained by every student or they will not be able to complete required coursework for professional engineering and production training taught at AIMM.

Vintage King | Education Purchase Options For Students

All currently enrolled AIMM students are eligible for discounted equipment pricing through our exclusive partnership with Vintage King (vintageking.com).

Students may utilize the educational discount for an equipment pack or any combination of required technology as listed in the information above, including:

- An Apple computer
- Computer hubs and/or adaptors
- Audio Interface
- Microphones
- MIDI controller
- DAW Software including Avid Pro Tools and Ableton Live

Students will need to submit proof of current enrollment to receive the discount. A copy of your current class schedule/ enrollment for the quarter will suffice for those purposes. Please make sure to factor in the required technology details as outlined above in this document.

Vintage King handles and fulfills all orders with students directly.

For orders, questions, or to customize your items or pack, please contact:
